CLAIMANT SUPREME JUICE CO.'S REQUEST TO IMMEDIATE RELEASE OF CLAIMED PROPERTY PURSUANT TO 18 U.S.C. 983(f)(1) ET SEQ.

Claimant Supreme Juice Co. (Claimant), pursuant to 18 U.S.C. 983(f)(1) et seq., requests the immediate return of that property, identified in its claim form (hereto attached), and, in support of this request, says as follows:

(1) The claimant has a possessory interest in the property;

Explanation: The subject property, which consists of funds in the Claimant's bank account (see claim form attached) was owned by the Claimant.

(2) The Claimant has sufficient ties to the community to provide assurance that the property will be available at the time of the trial;

Explanation: Claimant's owner owns a home with street address 8759 South California, Evergreen Park, IL 60805; has owned that home; and has resided therein continuously since 1977. The spouse of Claimant's owner (they have been married since 1989) also resides at the foregoing address. Claimant has done business in the community since January 1, 1990 (when Claimant's operation under its present owner commenced). The children of Claimant's owner are 15 years old and 13 years old and reside with the claimant's owner.

(3) The continued possession by the Government pending the final disposition of forfeiture proceedings will cause substantial hardship to the claimant, such as preventing the functioning of a business, preventing an individual from working, or leaving an individual homeless;

Explanation: The seized property constitutes the entire operating capital of the Claimant. Claimant is accordingly unable to operate its business in any meaningful sense. Claimant, since the seizure has laid off two employees.

(4) The Claimant's likely hardship from the continued possession by the Government of the seized property outweighs the risk that the property will be destroyed, damaged, lost, concealed, or transferred if it is returned to the Claimant during the pendency of the proceeding;

Explanation: If Claimant goes out of business, that risk will outweigh any potential disappearance or impairment of the funds in question.

(5) None of following the conditions apply:

(a) The property is contraband, currency, or other monetary instrument, or electronic funds unless such currency or other monetary instrument or electronic funds constitutes the assets of a legitimate business which has been seized;

Explanation: The subject currency constitutes assets of a legitimate business.

(b) The property is to be used as evidence of a violation of the law;

Explanation: The subject funds are unrelated to the alleged criminal violation in question-a currency reporting violation. The only relevant evidence of the subject reporting violation is the bank records which reflect dates and amounts of deposits.

(c) The property, by reason of design or other characteristic, is particularly suited for use in illegal activities;

Explanation: The alleged criminal violation in question involves currencyreporting requirements. The dollars in question, in and of themselves, have no connection to future reporting requirements or any other illegal activity.

(d) The property is likely to be used to commit additional criminal acts if returned to the claimant.

Explanation: The alleged criminal violation in question involves currencyreporting requirements. The dollars in question, in and of themselves, have no connection to the commission of additional crimes.
